ON NEW WRITING

Vertical System and Education Board Members.

REVISED SALARY SCHEDULE

Referred—Some Figures—A Resolution on Reports—Secretary Interrupts—No Action.

At a meeting of the Commissioners of Education yesterday afternoon quite a number of matters were discussed.
Minister Cooper presided and Dr. C. T.
Rodgers was secretary as usual.

A new schedule for the salaries of teachers of a certain rank was submitted by Mr. Gibson, the deputy inspector. This contemplated increase for time of service and efficiency as shown by examination results. It was estimated that the whole increase for the first year would be but $326 over the present figure. The total would grow quite rapidly, however. One group of instructors in the table would reach the salary of $900 per annum on the tenth year. Mrs. Dillingham thought this was very little and remarked that it was scarcely sufficient to warrant such a worker taking a wife unto himself. Dr. Rodgers rejoined that he did not think a woman could support a husband on $900 a year. The entire schedule was referred to the committee on teachers. It must be disposed of before the legislature
meet in February next.

Mr. Gibson happened to mention that some of the copy books for the new vertical writing were not quite what they should be. He favored another brand. He was an advocate of the vertical system and exhibited a letter in the new style. Geo. W. Smith declared it was a poor "business" hand and proved the statement at once by Mr. Bowen. The latter said he had voted alone (before Mr. Smith came into the board) against the vertical writing. Mr. von Holt failed to see anything attractive about the system.
Mr. Bowen continued that his son was being taught to move the sheet with the left hand as he filled the lines with the right and wanted to know how a ledger was to be handled after that style. Dr. Rodgers, who evidenced a willingness to enlighten the members upon all topics, explained that the virtue of the vertical system chiefly claimed by its inventors was the position. The writer sat squarely to the desk and had his work directly in front.

At odd moments for some time Mr.
Bowen had been engaged in the preparation of a resolution which he now submitted. It was written in the very prettiest Spencerian, such as Mr.
Smith also uses. This resolution was to the effect that while the public had a right to know what the Commissioners were doing it was best that a report
such as the members desired to be published should be handed to the papers by the secretary. This he explained in answer to a question would not exactly keep out the newspaper representatives, but they would hardly care to sit through the long meetings when they knew Dr. Rodgers would have a real nice account of it all written out for them.

The secretary interrupted Mr. Bowen during the reading of the resolution as to "a statement of fact," he said. The secretary was reprimanded by the reader. A couple of minutes after the secretary mildly suggested while Mr.
Bowen was talking that the preparation of the news reports would be new work. Nothing was said of the new pun, but the secretary was told by Mr.
Bowen that as an employee of the Commissioners he would have to do the work they detailed. Dr. Rodgers was silent a moment and a moment later
Mr. Bowen said he was sorry in a way and would say so publicly, that he had spoken to the secretary so sharply. Dr.
Rodgers said he had asked perfectly legitimate questions and Mr. Bowen admitted that this was correct, but that interruptions were an annoyance.
This ended the incident.

Mr. von Holt said that anything it was desired to keep secret would be found out anyhow, even if it did not appear in the papers.

Mr. Bowen said that even if this was so the presence of the reporters might at times hamper the Commissioners in their work. This business was not at all that of the Board of Health. At times matters that were simply "insane jealousies" were before the Commissioners.

Mr. von Holt said information of a disagreeable nature was frequently suppressed by the reporters by request.
Minister Cooper was brief. He said the theory seemed good enough, but he doubted if the plan would work satisfactorily in actual practice.

Mr. Bowen again stated that he did not lose sight of the rights of the public in the premises.

It was suggested by Mr. von Holt that the report from the secretary might be viewed with suspicion by the public.

Mrs. Dillingham's only objection to the present system was that too often

a wrong impression was given of pending matters.

Mr. Smith moved that the resolution be laid on the table. Carried.

Some prominent Portuguese had asked that their teachers and children have a holiday December 1. Minister Cooper remarked that it was now the rule of the Commissioners to recognize only legal holidays.

The Commissioners made some assignments and changes of teachers and disposed of quite an amount of routine business.

MONIES AT LABOR.

Fighting Sailors of the Iredale
Sent to Prison.

The four sailors of the British bark Iredale, charged with assault and battery on Steward Thompson, were brought up for trial in the Police Court yesterday afternoon.

Alex. Seabrook, the ring leader, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment at hard labor. Charles Matson, Andrew Taylor and Godfrey Miller
each got two months.

The men all stated on the witness stand that they had beaten the steward because he refused to give them their proper allowance of food.

Judge Wilcox told the men that they could have complained to the British Consul and thereupon gave them the sentences as detailed above.

LAST OF RACING

Final Evening of Present Cyclomere Meet.

Speedy Men to Go After Records.
National Band Engaged for Saturday Night—Match.

All the fast riders and the slow ones too for that matter, were out on Cyclomere track yesterday afternoon. Martin was the only one of the fast riders who was unable to appear for training. Jones and Silva turned out with numerous patches on their arms and legs.

King, Jones and Silva kept to themselves and Jackson to himself. The last named did so not by choice, but by force of circumstances.

Damon did the fast work of the afternoon and surprised even the timekeepers. He was paced by Porter and Murray on a tandem.

Damon made the mile in 2:11 1-5.
King has also done some very fast work and the match between them will be a fine battle.

If the weather is favorable Saturday night, Jones and Manoa will go for track records. These will be extra numbers. The old Hawaiian National Band will be in attendance. Following is the program and entries, with the handicaps for tomorrow night:

Mile novice—Open. First heat: Jas.
Smith, T. Treadway, A. Robertson,
Jackson, O. Berndt, G. R. Johnston.
Second heat: T. Lloyd, G. Lewis, M.
V. Souza, Chas. Abloe, Joe Santos, J.
Cove.

Mile open—Professional. D. G. Sylvester, D. E. Whitman, Allan Jones, John Silva, George Sharrick. Pace-makers: Harvey and Lishman.

Two-thirds handicap—Professional.
D. G. Sylvester, 80 yards; D. E. Whitman, 50 yards; Allan Jones, scratch;
John Silva, 40 yards; George Angus, 120 yards; Geo. Sharrick, scratch.

Mile open—Oriental. First heat:
F. Cornn, Ah Tuck, Ed Kong, J. Wata-naba. Second heat: Ah Pan, S. Anno,
A. K. Ozawa.

Exhibition third mile, flying start—
Island professional. D. G. Sylvester, paced by Sharrick and Whitman.

Exhibition third mile, flying start—
Amateur. Henry Giles, pacemaker.

Match race, best two in three heats:
Fred. Damon and T. V. King, paced by
C. Murray and K. B. Porter.

Mile handicap—Amateur. First heat: T. V. King, scratch; A. Giles, 40 yards; H. Ludloff, 70 yards; N. Jackson, 100 yards. Second heat: Fred.
Damon, scratch; H. Giles, 60 yards;
H. E. Walker, 70 yards; F. Williams,
90 yards. M. Rodriguez.

Circuit Court Notes.

J. M. Monsarrat has filed a joinder
in the demurrer of Ekeleka Malani setting forth that his bill of complaint is sufficient in law and equity.

The will of Kaleipua Kanoa has been admitted to probate.

A. V. Gear has been granted an extension of time to plead his answer or demur to the complaint of F. L. Dortch.

The suit brought by Paul Neumann against Cotha has been discontinued.
Jury trial has been waived in the suit brought by the same plaintiff against Ohera. The same plaintiff's suit against Ohera, et al. has been awarded him by default.

Friends at San Francisco.

The Princess Kaiulani on arriving at San Francisco, was met at the station by Mr. C. R. Bishop, Mr. Schaefer and others, and taken to the Occidental hotel. Mr. Bishop had arranged with Major Hooper for her apartments, and she found them beautifully decorated with flowers.

An Optimist.

The world is going to the bad,
The pessimist says;
But when it goes for Schilling's Best,
It doesn't go that way.
Then optimism shouts with glee
"All's for the Best." That's Schilling's.

A PACIFIC PIRATE

Captain of Sophia Sutherland Is Under Cover.

WAS ONCE A SLAVE TRADER.

Another Expedition—Ex-Consul General Churchill's Interesting Story—In Solomons.

Not many weeks ago the San Francisco papers came out with a great yarn about the sailing of the schooner
Sophia Sutherland for the Solomon Islands with a gang of very warlike and determined men after the gold that someone said was simply lying about to be gathered up in baskets. The reports went on to say that the men were ready for any kind of an emergency and, in case of trouble with the warlike and savage natives on the Solomon Islands, they would simply annihilate them.

A story brought up on the Mariposa by Mr. Churchill, ex-American Consul at Apia, Samoa, and told to a reporter of this paper, puts a very different light on the subject and, instead of there being aboard the Sophia Sutherland, a gang of fortune hunters a hundred strong, there are, or rather were, only sixteen poor deluded San Francisco young men who listened to the fairly tales of a smooth-tongued adventurer and who are now very probably seeking to get back home again. The story told by Mr. Churchill is as follows:

"The Sophia Sutherland arrived in Apia, Samoa, where I was stationed as American Consul, about two days before the departure of the Alameda on her last trip north. The Customs authorities were looking for her and went out immediately. We arrived aboard at the same time, being very anxious to find out all about the firearms reported to have been stowed away on departure from the Coast. If there is anything we hate down in Samoa, it is firearms. You know why.

"Instead of a hundred men armed to the teeth, we found only sixteen of the most inoffensive looking young fellows. They were regular greenies whom I took at once to be the dupes of some sharp adventurer, a suspicion that I very soon found to be correct.
Instead of remonstrance we found the greatest willingness when told that they would have to submit to the regulations of the place which required that all the arms be taken ashore and put in bond in the Custom House. Upon going below, what was our surprise to find only eleven rifles, shotguns and revolvers, not even enough to go around. The men were the meekest things I ever have had any dealings with.

"They said that they had formed a company to go to the Solomon Islands and had dubbed themselves the South Sea Commercial Company of San Francisco with Captain McLean, an old salt, in command. A man called Greenwood was the mineral expert, another, Ging, the secretary and treasurer and Sorensen, a Dane, the Trading Master.
I looked at all of them and found them
all strangers to me except the Dane, Sorensen. I knew I had seen that face somewhere and I felt pretty sure it was when I was travelling among the Islands of the Western Pacific. I tried my best to place him but finally gave up the job.

"I talked with Sorensen for quite a while and soon had him telling me all about the islands down there. I soon found that he did not know much about them but was only making big talk. It was not long before I thought I would tell him what I had seen. Then it was that Sorensen began to talk about the weather and other subjects very remote from the one we had just been handling.

"I went ashore but for the life of me, I could not cease thinking about the Dane. I knew he was a rascal of some kind. Finally I spoke to one of my friends about the vessel that had just arrived and, during the course of our conversation, he asked me if I knew the man Sorensen. I told him I had run across him somewhere, but could not place him. 'Do you not remember the schooner Albert?' asked my friend. That gave me the key to the situation. I recalled the man and this is his history as I remember it:

"In the early 80's, Sorensen, who is an expert pearl diver, arrived in Melbourne and began to tell about the wonderful pearl beds in the Solomon Islands. All needed was a little capital. His smooth address soon won over some of the good people of Melbourne who purchased the schooner Albert, a very trim little vessel and fitted Sorensen out with a full diving outfit. A competent captain and a good crew were put aboard and the Albert started away one bright morning bound for the Solomon Islands.
When the vessel had gotten near one of the islands, the pearl diver developed a store of gin. I might say here that the gin was along that way is the blindest gin that was ever ginned.
Your 'okolehao' here is like water alongside of it. It was not long before the Captain and the crew were safe in the arms of Morpheus. Sorensen next developed a supply of irons which he used on the captain and sailors.

When they came to be laughed at them and sailing the ship close inshore, he bargained with a number of beach-combers always to be found on those forlorn shores and soon had the ship under weigh again. Now he had things all his own way and started out to trade with the unsuspecting natives.

"His system of trading, though very questionable, was simple and effective.
It was his practice to invite the chief of an island with a small following aboard the Albert. He would then get the sailors to interest the men on deck
while he took the chief down below to treat him. A dinner was usually spread out, but the unfortunate chief usually got no further than the soup.
At the given signal, the poor fellow was overpowered and put in irons.
Then the sailors with their rifles and revolvers would chase the natives over the side of the vessel, instructing them at the same time that their chief was in irons and would be killed unless a proper ransom was at once delivered aboard. Under such circumstances, Sorensen never failed to profit by the deal, the natives bringing aboard more than agreed on in the hopes of gaining their chief back again with less delay. That was one mode. Another was the following:

"Sorensen would entice a number of natives aboard and after giving them meat and drink—especially the latter—would, with the aid of his men, throw them all into irons. Then with a stiff breeze blowing, he would sail away to the other side of the island where rival tribes lived and there sell the captives.
Now, as Sorensen was familiar with the customs of the place and knew that they hardly ever worked down there,
he must have known he was not selling slaves, but a supply of fresh meat.
That however did not seem to bother
him in any degree whatever.

"Sorensen followed this life for a number of months. Finally a complaint was laid in and the H. M. S.
Dart rounded him up. He was tried in 1884 and sent to the penitentiary for a term of ten years. He served his time and then mysteriously disappeared.

"Not many months ago he turned up in San Francisco just as he did in Melbourne and in his possession were specimens of gold ore which, when analyzed, were found to be marvelously rich in the very much coveted glittering material. He told stories of the great wealth of the Solomon Islands, saying that he had just come from there. He had succeeded in winning the friendship of some of the natives who showed him the places where the great wealth was stored.

"There was a fever immediately and a number of young men got together, formed a company, purchased the Sophia Sutherland, and taking Sorensen
at his word, without the least proof that he had procured the gold ore from the Solomons and started out on the journey.

"I felt sorry for the young men and immediately took steps to save them from the fate of the captain and crew of the schooner Albert. Together with the friend I have already mentioned,
I went aboard the vessel and the story of the adventures of Sorensen was told them. You can imagine the effect this had on the poor souls. They were simply dumfounded and 'did not know what to do. The next thing I did was to confer with the British Consul, who sent a dispatch to the British Solomons telling the authorities there to forbid the landing of the men if it was found that was Sorensen aboard.

"Just before leaving the steamer
Ovaland, brought the news that the Sophia Sutherland had arrived in Suva, Fiji, and that on the voyage to that port from Apia, there had been trouble.
One of the men had been put in irons.
I strongly suspect that it was Sorensen,
for the feeling against him after his record had been told, was by no means friendly. The men had been warned and evidently had their eye on him. That is the last I heard of the poor fellows. I hope that they will have the good sense to give up their foolish project and return home at the earliest opportunity."

LOOKING AROUND.

Senator Pettigrew Occupying the Time of His Visit.

Senator Pettigrew, who is accompanied everywhere by ex-Senator Dubois, will have busy days while in Hawaii.
Yesterday forenoon they inspected the Executive building, called upon President Dole and visited all the offices.
Later they were the guests of Attorney-General Smith at the Pacific Club.

In the afternoon, Mr. B. F. Dillingham and a party of business men took charge of the travelers. In the evening the excursion returned after having been to the end of the Oahu railway line. This outing included a look over Ewa plantation and a trip around Pearl
Locks aboard a steam launch.

Today the Senator and Mr. Dubois will go driving. If the showers are not too heavy they will go to the top of Tantalus. Tomorrow they leave for Hawaii on the Kinau. They will make a close inspection of Oiaa and will journey to the volcano. Senator Pettigrew is making notes and as well gathering literature. The Kinau will return one day ahead of time for the benefit of the travelers.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating
all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good." Sold by all druggists and dealers. Benson, lands.

HE COMES TO SEE

Senator Pettigrew is Here to Investigate.

CAN NOW CHANGE HIS MIND

Has Been Rated an Opponent of Annexation—Made Speeches.
Will Express no Opinion.

R. F. Pettigrew, a Senator of South Dakota, and Fred. T. Dubois, an ex-Senator of Idaho, are at the Hawaiian hotel. The gentlemen have the Snow cottage and will be here till the 19th inst. They will try and find time to visit the Island of Hawaii.

These Americans have been in China and Japan in the service of the silver or financial reform party of the United States. They witnessed the shifting of the standard in Japan from yellow to white metal and are agreed that it was a destructive movement. Said Mr.
Pettigrew: "The change was forced by the banking or creditor element.
The manufacturers now see that they have been hit hard. Their trade with China has been ruined and their commerce as a whole will be seriously injured."

The Senator from South Dakota has been listed for a long time as an opponent to the Annexation of Hawaii by the United States. In the upper branch of Congress he has made two speeches against the measure or policy. "I decline to be interviewed upon this matter," he said last evening. "I have no opinion to offer. It is true I have made arguments, but I will say nothing further at this time. I am here to make a personal investigation—as close an inquiry as the time and my opportunities will permit."

"It has been stated that you are fixed in your attitude against any project of your country acquiring more territory."

"If I did not feel that I was at liberty to change my mind if I discover reasons for it here now, I would continue on the voyage instead of stopping. I wish to see and hear for myself. I am anxious to meet all who will furnish any information. I will be pleased to talk with anyone who desires to present the question to me."

This ended the annexation portion of the interview. "The country is a revelation and a treat to me," said the Senator. "I have never before been so far south and the tropical plants and the warm sea and the soft colors and the genial atmosphere and the wealth of green and the clear sky appeal to me. It is all very beautiful. I am sure we will enjoy our stay."

Senator Pettigrew is a tall, well-built man in the prime of life. He was al-ling slightly when the special session of Congress ended. Now he is the picture of health and shows an alertness and activity befitting a young man.
He is a genuine westerner with all the frankness and cordiality of his home people. He comes from one of the great new states where democratic ideas prevail and the success of his campaigns marks him as a "mixer" politically. He is very popular in South Dakota and at Washington is a prominent figure.

The United States Congressional
"Blue Book" says of the South Dakota Senator: "Richard Franklin Pettigrew
of Sioux Falls was born at Ludlow, Vt., July, 1848; removed with his parents to Evansville, Rocky county, Wis., in 1854; was prepared for college at the Evansville academy and entered Beloit college in 1866, where he remained two years; was a member of the law class of 1872, University of Wisconsin; went to Dakota in 1869, July,
in the employ of the United States Deputy surveyor as a laborer; located in Sioux Falls, where he engaged in the surveying and real estate business; opened a law office in 1872 and has been in the practice of his profession since; was elected to the Dakota legislature as a member of the council in 1877 and re-elected in 1879; was elected to the forty-seventh congress as delegate from Dakota territory; was elected to the territorial council of 1884-5; was a member of the South Dakota constitutional convention of 1883;
was chairman of the committee on public indebtedness and framed the present provisions of the constitution on the subject; was elected United States Senator, October 16, 1889, under the provisions of the act of Congress admitting South Dakota into the Union;
took his seat December 2, 1889; was re-elected in 1895. His term of service will expire March 3, 1901."

Ex-Senator Dubois was one of the bright young men of the Senate during his term immediately after his state was admitted to the Union. His state now keeps records that he was not returned and leading men of the Senate were sorry he could not succeed himself. He is intensely interested in the financial question. Mr. Dubois went west from college to engage in the range cattle business and readily drifted into politics and was elevated strictly on his merits.

NEW MAN IS HERE

Arrival of British Acting Consul General.

IN GREAT HASTE FROM JAPAN

Young, But of Much Experience.
Nearly Twenty Years in the Service—Speaks Japanese

Her British Majesty's new Acting Consul-General and Commissioner to Hawaii arrived quite unexpectedly yesterday. He came direct from Japan by the S. S. Rio de Janeiro and is temporarily domiciled at the Hawaiian hotel. W. J. Kenny is his name and he is an affable young man of very pleasing personality. Thos. Rain Walker, the present popular acting local representative of the Queen's Government, will doubtless present his successor at the Capitol in a day or two. Mr. Walker will then be able to make the journey abroad which was postponed on account of the sad and untimely demise of Capt. A. G. S. Hawes, who came here from Tahiti to act for Great Britain.

After it was learned that Mr. Cusack-Smith, who had been British consul at Samoa was unavailable for this post, Mr. Kenny was instructed by cable to report here without delay. He said last evening that when his marching orders came he was up-country riding himself of a fever. He was one of the few white men on the island who fell a victim to the ailment, but fortunately was about recovered when the messages sending him to Hawaii were received. He is now quite well again and with his graceful height and fine figure looks like an athlete.

For nearly twenty years has Mr. Kenny been in the service of his country. For ten years he was registrar and interpreter of the Consular Court at Yokohama. Then he was attached to the consulate at Hakodate and from there was sent to Tainan Formosa. He speaks Japanese beautifully and has a valet in a kimono who understands scarcely a word of English. The new official says he is pleased to make a change and is certain he will like Hawaii. He cannot say whether he is to be in Hawaii indefinitely or not. His instructions were to come here as "acting" Consul-General.

Mr. Kenny was not expected before the 19th by Mr. Walker. He says he packed up on the instant and took the first steamer. If the first impression is to count, Mr. Kenny will be satisfactory to the resident Britishers and from his experience in Japan and his knowledge of the men and language of that country will be an especially capable man for Great Britain here at this time.

A LARGE FUNERAL.

Services Over the Remains of the Late Major C. T. Gulick.

The funeral of the late Maj. Chas. T. Gulick was one of the largest ever seen in Honolulu. The principal down town streets along the line of march were crowded for an hour. There was much sincere mourning. Minister Damon and Government officials were in attendance and many prominent citizens. Business was practically suspended during the services. The floral offerings were in the hundreds and were very beautiful.

At 3:30, Rev. H. H. Parker conducted services at the house. He read from three Psalms and from the gospel of St. Matthew and offered a touching prayer. Professor Berger was at the piano and eight young ladies from Kawaiahao church choir sang two hymns. The Masons then took charge, the procession being formed under the direction of Captain Tripp. It was as follows:

Government Band.
Delegations from Aloha Aina and Hui Kalaniana'ole.
Veteran Firemen.
Knights Templars.
Members of Hawaiian, Le Progres and Pacific Lodges of Masons.
Undertaker and Clergyman.
Hearse drawn by four black horses.
Mourners.
Friends of deceased and family.

At the cemetery the Masonic service was carried out with solemn effect.

HEALANIS ELATED.

Club Had a Prosperous Year.
Election of Officers.

There was a well attended and spirited meeting of the Healanis Boat Club last evening. It was an annual gathering of the stockholders. President Cecil Brown was in the chair. The company financial showing made by Treasurer Oat was applauded and received the commendation of Mr. Brown and others. During the past year the debt has been reduced $1,000 and three new boats at a cost of $800 have been secured. The election resulted as follows:

President—Cecil Brown.
Vice-President—Geo. Carter.
Secretary—Jas. Lloyd.
Treasurer—Fred B. Oat.
Auditor—Jas. A. Low.
Directors—C. H. Cooke, Jr., W. E. Wall, F. W. McChesney, Chas. B. Gray.

It is taken as a matter of course by all interested that Geo. Carter will continue as a captain.

Still No Hospital

The Anglican Church Chronicle for November is out. The editor again calls attention to the fact that the Memorial Hospital for incurables and other patients, for which there is pressing need, exists only on paper. Rev. Mackintosh suggests that "if the British find that they are unable to establish this thing themselves, let them rest content in the honor of originating so noble a scheme; and rouse up the whole community to their help. Let a committee of the ladies of Honolulu once take the matter in hand, and the hospital will be in fact accomplished in a very short time."

WELCOMED HOME.

A Hearty Aloha Extended to the Princess Kaulani.

Princess Kaulani, accompanied by her father, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, arrived on the Australia yesterday morning. She is in the very best of health and expresses great joy at being once more in the land of her birth. While the Australia was hauling alongside, she busied herself with trying to pick out among the thousands of people on the Oceanic wharf, people she knew in her childhood.

As a friend stepped up to the Princess while she was standing on the hurricane deck she said: "I am delighted to be home once more."

Princess Kaulani, after receiving friends aboard the Australia for about

This likeness of Kaulani was made by Williams a short time before the Princess left Hawaii to be educated abroad. That she was then bright and pretty is verified by her cleverness and beauty as now remarked.

a half an hour, descended to the wharf and was driven in a landau to Alahau, her home at Waikiki, in company with her father, Miss Eva Parker and David Kawanakoa. The Princess bowed graciously to the many people along the way who greeted her as she passed by.

As she got into her carriage a large number of handsome bouquets and leis were handed her from friends. Kaulani was in royal colors. Her waist was yellow and skirt black. A pretty traveling hat was set off with a carnation lei.

TO KLONDIKE?

Will the Australia, Alameda and Mariposa Forsake Hawaii?

They say the Australia is going to the Klondike. Report further has it that Alameda and Mariposa will also go into the gold rush trade in the spring.

These rumors cannot be confirmed, nor can they be denied at this time, "by authority." Said an officer on the Australia:

"No one knows now in San Francisco or elsewhere, what will be done. There is any amount of talk. It all rests with Goodall Perkins & Co. They must have boats for the Alaska work. Only American registry will do."

"I was told, Mr. Goodall had the power to put the scheme through if he thought it best. It would mean the retirement of J. D. Spreckels & Co. from Pacific trade. It can hardly be believed that they are willing to leave the field to the Pacific Mail and new competitors of that company."

"We are not particularly anxious. It would be a great surprise to see the Australia off the local line and the Alameda and Mariposa off the run to the colonies, but it may come to that in the spring. The Klondike demand must be met somehow."

JACK THOMPSON.

Captured in the Act of Committing a Burglary.

"Jack Thompson's name is mud now," was the gleeful remark of Detective David Kaapa made at 1:30 this morning.

This notorious vagrant will certainly be convicted of burglary and sent to the reef for an extended sojourn.

Kaapa and four of his men, including Chun Poon, watched Thompson all night till they caught him "red-handed." He was called upon to halt as he came out a window of the office of Dr. Kojima on Beretania street, near the corner of Nuuanu. Kaapa and his detail saw Thompson enter. The window had not been fastened. They advanced, closing in from several directions.

Thompson saw the game was at an end, but tried to make a run. He went into an outbuilding and dropped some tools down a vault. Then he surrendered, saying he was only walking about. He did not have presence of mind enough to claim he was making a call for the doctor's services.

When searched at the station, Thompson was found to have no less than twenty keys of various sizes and shapes in his possession. One was for a safe. Kaapa will be very generally congratulated on the seizure of Thompson who has been suspected of numerous burglaries and who has managed to evade the police for months.

Unfermented Grape Juice.

This delightfully refreshing summer drink may be made very cheap. Pick over the grapes, rejecting all unsound one, almost cover with cold water in a porcelain-lined kettle, beat slowly (mashing), and cook until all the juice is freed. Drain in jelly-bag. Measure the juice, add one-third of a cupful of granulated sugar for each quart, boil for four minutes, bottle and seal. So wholesome is this drink that the unfermented "grape-juice cure" for dyspepsia has become a popular fad in Germany, and there is no doubt of its beneficial quality.

HAPPILY MARRIED

Afternoon Wedding of a Popular Couple.

Miss Charlotte H. Parmelee now Mrs. H. S. Ewing—At Central Union—Decorations.

The pretty afternoon wedding of Charlotte Parmelee of this city and Mr. H. S. Ewing, formerly of Los Angeles, California, was the occasion of the calling together of a very large number of society people in Central Union church yesterday. The young lady is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parmelee of this city and the young man has been engaged in the office of Dr. George Herbert ever since his arrival here. Both are well known in society circles and very popular.

The church was very prettily decorated for the occasion. The pulpit, the organ loft and the organ itself were decorated in pink and white flowers with a very liberal addition of ferns, palms and greens of various kinds, the work of Mrs. Robert Lewers and her able assistants. Perhaps the most noticeable piece of decoration was the true lover's knot just above the key board of the organ. This was made of white carnation leis. Over to the left of the pulpit was a trellis work of vines with a large green and white wreath, suspended from the center.

The bridal party arrived shortly after 2:30 p. m. and marched down the aisle to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played on the organ by Mrs. A. F. Judd. The bride advanced, leaning on the arm of her father. The best man was Clifton Tracy, maid-of-honor, Miss Helen Sorenson and bridesmaid, Miss Harriet Lewers. The ushers were: Messrs. J. Q. Wood, S. P. Wood and Frank Atherton.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. P. Birnie in front of the pulpit. This over the bridal party repaired to the Parmelee home on Beretania street where refreshments were served. Shortly before 5 o'clock, the newly married couple went to the steamer Helene upon which they left for Maui. They will spend their honeymoon at Idlewild, returning in about a fortnight to take up their residence here permanently.

They were followed to the steamer by quite a number of friends, every one of whom was well provided with rice and some with old shoes. It became necessary for them to take refuge in their cabin to avoid the storm.

Wear Medals.

Among the Japanese passengers who arrived on the Rio de Janeiro yesterday afternoon were a number upon whose breasts were noticed medals of various stamps and shapes. Upon inquiry it was learned that the men had been soldiers in the service of the Emperor and that during the recent unpleasantness with China, they obtained the medals for special acts of bravery.

Successfully Coached.

The Annapolis Cadets defeated the Pennsylvania Reserves at football on October 16 by a score of 24 to 0. They have also defeated the Princetown Reserves, 6 to 0. The Cadets are coached this year by Captain R. Armstrong, Yale '95.

No Sham Battle.

At a meeting of the Board of Officers of the N. G. H. held in military headquarters last night, it was decided to abandon the project of having a sham battle. The officers generally were not in favor of it and the majority by which the vote carried, was quite large.

Thousands of Plover.

A man who has just returned from the other side of the island says that the wind and rain over there has driven all the plovers over here and that thousands upon thousands may now be found at Halawa.

Good Baking Powder

cannot be sold for 25 cents or 30 cents a pound. Cream of tartar is expensive and cream of tartar is necessary to good baking powder.

"Cheap" baking powder either contains alum (which is bad for the insides) or is badly made (does not do the work) or is weak.

Really cheap baking powder cannot be sold for these prices; but the cheapest of all is Schilling's Best—your money back if you don't like it—at your grocer's.

PULLMAN'S FATE.

George H. Pullman, a business man of the highest order, a millionaire and a philanthropist to some extent, died, leaving unsolved one of the ugly social problems that confront the rich men of America. As he gathered wealth his natural instinct, as a father, made him ardently hope that his sons would become worthy successors to his wealth and reputation and enlarge the work he has so successfully carried on. He was bitterly disappointed and in his last will so declares and cuts his sons out of great wealth and position. The public will never know the details of that protracted domestic misery which forced him finally to this most humiliating act. Prominent and "successful" as the world goes, he was compelled before his hand grew cold, to say to the world substantially this: "In the struggle for position and wealth, I am one of the most successful men of America. I have established a great industry. I have founded a model city. But in that which is nearest to my heart, in that which would make my latter days full of pleasure and comfort, is seeing my own flesh and blood succeed me, with the accumulations of my wealth and my experience, I have utterly failed, and go to my grave in sorrow."

Mr. Pullman was, like most of the rich men of America, the product of the flush times. These men in the race for wealth flung aside all things that hinder the mad racing of the chariots. The careful and patient training of their sons to an understanding of the burden and responsibility of wealth, is itself a duty and work which interferes with the gathering in of money. So far as general estimates go, the large majority of rich men's sons in America, become indifferent citizens or "go to the bad." Any one who has the chance to meet them in the large cities, soon discovers how little the rich men enjoy life, because of the serious outlook for their children. As money getting is their own business, they naturally urge their sons to habits of industry and of money making. But the boys are perfectly conscious of the fact that money enough has already been made for them, and do not relish the disagreeable features of a purely business life, with its monotony, selfishness and intellectual narrowness. Fathers and sons stand on a false basis and in a false relation.

A father who has never educated himself to the highest uses of wealth, does not know how to educate his sons to these uses. The great missionary work in science, in art, in education, in philanthropy, he has neglected, and he can neither teach by example or precept. Even Mr. Pullman was a one-sided philanthropist. He made the environment of the men he employed better than it was, but he failed to give or secure "homes" for them, and in the meantime accumulated wealth, without patiently educating his sons how to administer it wisely.

The good pastors of the old times, when in their pulpits, drew lurid pictures of the eternal sufferings of the unrepentant, strapped to blazing gibbets, and then came down from the pulpits, and showed their practical skepticism of the doctrine, by dining and cracking jokes with those who, at any moment, might be seized and carried down by torturing devils.

These rich men, in like manner, solemnly admonish their children that all treasure should be laid up in Heaven, and then proceed to make enormous earthly investments; but not in trust for the higher or Heavenly use. The children left uneducated in the higher uses and becoming skeptical about the sincerity of the doctrine, yield quickly to the innumerable temptations which wealth creates.

Colonel Ingersoll said: "Men are not yet educated to the best uses of money. Rum and vice destroy the fortunes in America. Only a few are saved."

One night, going out of Chicago, a long, lean man, with a wart on his cheek, came into the depot. He paid George M. Pullman 50 cents, and half a berth was assigned him. Then he took off his coat and vest and hung them up, and they fitted the peg about as well as they fitted him. Then he kicked off his boots, turned into the berth, and was sleeping like a healthy baby before the car left the depot. Along came another passenger and paid his 50 cents. In two minutes he was back at George Pullman.

"There's a man in that berth of mine," said he, hotly, "and he's about ten feet high. How am I going to sleep there, I'd like to know? Go and look at him."

In went Pullman—mad, too. The tall, lank man's knees were under his chin, his arms were stretched across the bed and his feet were stored comfortably—for him. Pullman shook him until he awoke and then told him if he wanted the whole berth he would have to pay $1.

"My dear sir," said the tall man, "a contract is a contract. I have paid you 50 cents for half this berth, and, as you see, I'm occupying it. There's the other half," pointing to a strip about six inches wide. "Sell that and don't disturb me again." And, so saying, the man with a wart on his face went to sleep again. He was Abraham Lincoln.

CONNECTICUT AND HAWAII.

The Hartford Courant, (Senator Hawley's paper), complains of the miserly appropriation by the Connecticut legislature of the sum of $1,000 only for the expenses of the State's new sewage commission, and it says: "A municipality in the Hawaiian Islands has set the example of fetching a sanitary expert nearly half way round the world to supervise certain needed work."

The Courant, in selecting Hawaii as a model of municipal generosity, justified its pre-eminence as a leading journal of New England. Besides, Connecticut and Hawaii have a joint and several "glorious past." Down the corridors of time they will dance together, the brown hand of the fair Hawaiian in the grip of the white fist of the Inventor of Notions.

It was a citizen of Connecticut who cared for the Kanaka boy Obokiah, in 1810, and it was in Cornwall of that State, he was educated. The inspiration of his story created the mission to these Islands. For a moment the Yankee forgot the patent mouse traps, and looking beyond the seas, set up a trap to catch the Evil One. The inspiration given by Obokiah to the mission should have caused his name to be adopted in every missionary family on the Islands, and every other male inhabitant with missionary antecedents, should bear the name of Obokiah. Probably modesty only forbade it.

Yale men, with a genuine Connecticut environment, were the first missionaries to these Islands in 1819. Fate flung Hawaii into the air, and she came down a good "catch" into the arms of the Nutmeg State.

As the Courant people belong to the Yale contingent, we tell them that Connecticut, through Yale, has planted the banner of Christian civilization on these imperial mountain tops, and a conspicuous "Y" is always in the central field of its graceful folds. Many and rather hysterical attempts have been made by other colleges to tear it out and substitute other humiliating letters. It is still there. Yale dominates on the Bench of the Hawaiian Supreme Court. She dominates in the rank of local historians and, in the Advertiser and Gazette, Yale meekly and decently stands by the staff and the flag on the imperial mountain— and aids in keeping off the Asiatic horde who are said to be trying to cut the halyards. In moments of forgetfulness, Yale recognizes the inestimable value of the work of other American institutions of learning, but she claims the prestige for herself and Connecticut, of having "discovered" through Obokiah, this heathen land, and is grateful to Providence that a heathen land was created for the purpose of this discovery.

It was therefore only with a profound knowledge of the almost invisible links in the chain of events, that the Courant selected Hawaii as an example of municipal enterprise. It presents one of the most remarkable and beautiful "equations of history," that the good people of Connecticut in 1819 flung their bread a thousand leagues upon the Pacific ocean, and in 1897 it comes back in a return loaf of a wholesome example in sanitary enterprise.

Should the American Senate find difficulty in adjusting the political status of Hawaii after annexation, we suggest that she be made an internal part of Old Saybrook, every acre of which we know so well, and that the remains of Kamehameha I, if they can be found, be placed beside those of Lady Fenwick.

Hawaii thrives across the sea and over the shoulders of the Courant, a lei of her brilliant flowers. Aloha nui.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS.

The organization of a "Band of Mercy" by the Kona teachers, the purpose of which is to teach children kindness to dumb animals, arouses the hearty commendation of every humane person in the Islands. Kindness is naturally inherent in most people, yet is strangely lacking or undeveloped in many, and at all times it is to a certain extent a matter of training. The daily sight by children of little acts of cruelty, with apparently few attempts made to prevent them, is largely responsible for the extreme cases, for which just punishment is meted out in the Police Court.

Legislative acts, and their rigid enforcement by the Police and the officers of "humane" societies, prevent in many cases the open practice of cruelty. But Police Courts do not teach kindness as a principle, neither do they prevent the unconscious cruelty to animals of which some of the most intelligent people are guilty. Probably these Islands are no worse in this respect than most communities are, but the "Band of Mercy" can have an abundance of illustrations if it wishes to teach kindness by that method.

A few days since a respectable young man wished to lean his bicycle against the curbing on King street. A dog was lying in the gutter and without hesitation the young man kicked the animal from the spot which he had selected as the most convenient for his wheel. Undoubtedly the dog was a nuisance and should not have been allowed to roam the streets at will. Two witnesses remonstrated with the young man. The first said: "Don't kick the dog, he might bite you." The second said: "Don't kick the dog, it hurts the dog." We trust the "Band of Mercy" will not confine its membership and operations to the Kona district.

Since the remarkable success of growing sisal hemp in the Bernadine, was made under the intelligent supervision of Sir Ambrose Shea, the governor, the people of other lands are following the business. The plant is now cultivated in Florida, but it does not do well above the middle belt of that State, owing to the frosts. Some experiments have been made here in the cultivation of the plant, and in several instances, it has not proved successful. This is probably due to planting in unconsolidated soil. The plant requires little water and does best on coral land. The absorption of the energy of the Islands in the cultivation of cane, prevents, so far, a thorough and exhaustive experiment in ascertaining its value. Everyone admits the pressing need of diversified industries. The political solution justifies the Government in paying as much attention to such industries as it does to the educational system. Mr. A. H. Turner, we hear, has been making a study of the business, as it is described in many publications, and purposes to enlist home capital in the gradual cultivation of a hundred acres in the Ewa district. There are now, at hand, about 100,000 plants, with which an adequate experimental farm may be started. In this, as in all new industries, patience, intelligence and staying qualities are necessary to success. On these depend the cost of experience.

The spectacle of the funeral of the late Major Gulick on Tuesday, illustrates one of the many-sided phases of our social and somewhat isolated life on these Islands. It was a strange one, and even the word grotesque might be used, if the occasion had not been one of extreme solemnity. It is not necessary to recall the events of the last three years, or the share Major Gulick took in creating them, beyond suggesting the significant contrast between the hour when his life was declared to be forfeited to the State and the last hour on Tuesday, when some of those who had impatiently and angrily called for the extreme penalty a few months since, reverently and with feeling joined in the last rites. But the angry feelings and the sensitive instinct of danger had passed away, like a cloud. It is at the tomb that we forget our common frailties and the living and the dead seem to exchange courtesies, before the door is closed and sealed. He who was buried on Tuesday, after much suffering, might have said: "Death is the only physician, the shadow of his valley the only journeying that will cure us of age, and the gathering fatigue of age."

One of the rumors, as reliable as any of the public rumors, is that China has protested against the annexation of Hawaii. The Government should promptly notify every nation on the face of the earth, that all notices of protest must be filed with the Minister of Foreign Affairs, on or before December 1st, next. The King of Timbuctoo and the Shah of Persia should stop eating water melons and attend to international affairs. After annexation is made, these remote states will be sending delegations over the world, insisting on the autonomy of Hawaii. Let them all have their day in Court, and forever after hold their peace.

To Hawaii for Rest.

The President and Mrs. Dole will be passengers by the outgoing Kinohi this morning. Mr. Dole will not go as far as Hilo. He will be in the company of Senator Pettigrew and ex-Senator Dubois to Kawaihae or Mahukona. Mr. Dole will do some hunting, some fishing and some cross country riding and will incidentally look into some public land matters. He goes principally for the outing.

Y. M. C. A. Musicales.

On next Tuesday evening the best musical talent of the city will appear in a concert at the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment is being arranged by the Y. M. C. A. committee, of which Mr. W. A. Love is chairman. It will be a free concert and all members of the organization and friends generally are cordially invited to be present.

Receiving Callers

Princess Kaiulani is now well established at her Honolulu home, Alahau, Waikiki. She will receive Hawaiians between 10 and 4 on Saturdays and others at any hours at which she is at liberty. The Princess had many visitors yesterday, but managed to find time for trip to the Mausoleum.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best-selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by all druggists and dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaiian Islands.

NOTES ON ANNEXATION

The Philadelphia Call cites Congressman Maguire's argument against union, because with it he says the Asiatics living in Hawaii will have the legal right to travel and reside in any part of the United States. It says the argument is an ingenious one, but contingencies of this kind can be readily met with appropriate legislation.

The N. Y. Journal, alluding to the report that Japan has asked the aid of England in the disposition of the Hawaiian-Japanese affair, says that the Japanese should trust to the nation that introduced them into the family of civilized countries, rather than seek aid from the British nation that has kept them in a subordinate position, and denied them for many years, the right to govern their own territory.

The Washington Post claims to have abundant evidence of the purpose of the Princess Kaiulani "to work up a boom to obtain the Hawaiian Throne." It says that at present, however, both the ex-Queen and the Princess will not quarrel over the affair, and that nothing will be done until the annexation matter is settled.

The Philadelphia Press says that Hawaii has won a diplomatic victory over Japan, as the latter nation has consented to arbitrate all of the points involved in the dispute regarding immigration.

The St. Louis Observer relates the action of the Hawaiian Senate in ratifying the treaty, but expresses no opinion regarding annexation. It believes that "the father of lies has been let loose," in the statement that veteran soldiers from Japan are being steadily introduced into Hawaii.

The Chicago Standard alludes to the same report that Japan is introducing soldiers into the Islands in the disguise of laborers, and says there is no telling what Japan will do.

The New Britain, Ct., Herald says many thoughtful persons are opposed to annexation, but believes that "the so-called conservative advisers will be swept aside and that the next session of the Senate will witness the ratification of the treaty." It states in discussing the financial resources of the Government that, "most of the bonds are held by natives."

The Washington Post replies to the statement made in the North American Review that all the Chinese and Japanese born in Hawaii will become, under the Constitution of the United States, American citizens. It says, "we do not know that any body is proposing to admit Hawaii" as a State. Some form of territorial government will be developed. But when, if ever, the time arrives for the admission of Hawaii (as a State) there will be no trouble on account of the Asiatics. The Constitution permits States to prescribe various qualifications for suffrage. And who knows that the young Japanese in Hawaii will not become good, patriotic, well educated American citizens, after a few decades of prosperous life under the Stars and Stripes?"

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser quotes the statement of Professor MacCauley, for the last seven years at the head of the Unitarian College in Japan, that "the stories of Japanese occupation and colonization by disguised soldiers are circulated by the annexationists in order to scare Uncle Sam into prompt action."

The Minneapolis Journal gives an abstract of Senator Davis' lecture before the University law students of that place. The Senator gave his reasons with much force, for annexation. Regarding the fate of treaties, in the event of annexation, he said that, "rights which are vested are preserved upon principles of equity and morality, but the promissory portions of all treaties become void."

The Worcester Spy, Mass., says that Senator Morgan's speech to the natives shows that he told them that there might be a Hawaiian president of the United States, "not some possible descendant of a missionary from New England, but a black president, a Polynesian, a Kanaka, the possible great grandson of a savage. We do not oppose annexation, but we do not agree with the Senator."

Suit Is Delayed.

The case of the Japanese laborers at the Pail against Watson, the man who is alleged to have beaten them out of their wages, is resting in abeyance. The luna who has the matter in his hands, is very ill and can do nothing. As soon as he is well enough the Japs will make a move toward getting the money they say due them.

Opium Cases.

In the Police Court yesterday morning, the case of Ron Chum, charged with unlawful possession of opium, was nolle pross'd. Ah Young was fined $50 and costs on the same charge.

SPEAKS WITH CARE

Notes Gathered on Visits to Various Plantations.

Warning Against the Castor Plant. The Papaya as a Substitute—Will Furnish Shade—Sunflowers.

Allan Herbert gives the following additional facts on coffee and its culture:

That the coffee industry on these Islands will be a success there cannot be a doubt, but it is folly to overestimate the advantages to be derived or to underestimate the difficulties that lie along the way.

What has been written about profit to be derived from small coffee ventures is incomplete and some of it very misleading. We cannot help but believe that these facts must be patent to the Government.

On our tour of inspection we noticed with regret that the castor plant is being used as a shade for the coffee trees. The castor plant was introduced into Southern California some seven years ago but it did not pay. It has now become with the people there almost as bad a pest as the lantana is with us here.

Plant the beautiful and healthful papaya instead. They will grow up in a very few months and give a better shade than the castor plant. They will also give food for both man and beast. Did you ever see blight or insects on a papaya tree? As mentioned above they will grow up in a very short time and the young coffee trees that are struggling along can be tied to their sturdy stalks and thereby receive the protection they need.

Send your address to "A. H., Kallhi, and you will receive through the mail a package of Russian sunflower seeds, free of charge. They will give health and pleasure to yourself and neighbors. We grow them by the acre for poultry feed.

METEORIC DISPLAY.

Earth Due to Pass Through Showers Next Week.

Early next week, unless the astronomers are wrong in their calculations, the earth should pass through an extraordinary shower of meteors. Every 33 years the display of November meteors is more magnificent than usual.

The present month is the November of the 33 year period. Professor Garrett P. Serviss, the astronomer, says in an interview in a New York paper: "The great swarm of the November meteors is drawing rapidly near the point where, once in every thirty-three years, it meets the earth, and astronomers are on the qui vive for the first outposts which, dashing in a blaze of fire into the atmosphere, will announce the arrival of the strange horde of celestial wanderers."

"Twice already within this century these meteors have astonished the world by their portentous appearance, the first occasion being the celebrated star shower of 1833. The second appearance was in 1866.

"There is a chance that a memorable display will be witnessed on the mornings of November 14th, 15th and 16th. The opening exhibition of the meteors this year will be followed, if previous experiments can be trusted as a basis for prediction, by a still more brilliant display in November, 1898, and by the arrival of the central swarm in November, 1899."

In Washington.

Letters received here concerning Senator Morgan are to the effect that he has gone direct to Washington from Southern California. The friend of Hawaii has entirely recovered from an illness which attacked him soon after his arrival on the Coast. He cannot visit Southern cities at this time on account of the yellow fever quarantine.

Sleep

Induced by the use of coca, opiate or narcotic compounds is bad, decidedly bad. It undermines the health and shatters the constitution and the patient is steadily growing into a worse condition—often resulting in the terrible slavery and misery of the cocaine and opium habit. Sleep induced by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla may not come as quickly, but it comes more surely, permanently and is

THE Y. H. I. EVENING

Popular Society Gives an Entertainment.

Musical and Literary—Addresses by Messrs. Wilcox, Smith and Dr. Huddy—Ladies Assist.

It goes without saying that the young men of the Y. H. I. were extremely pleased last night when they found such a hearty response to the invitations they sent out to friends to be present at the installation of the officers elected to serve during the ensuing year. The hall prettily decorated as it was with flags and a profusion of tropical greens, formed a most attractive place for the people who crowded the place to the very doors. Promptly at 8 o'clock, and after the Glee club had sung "Maikai Waipio," Chas. Wilcox, the retiring president, stepped upon the fern surrounded platform and began his address, while the new officers stood in a row to his right. Mr. Wilcox dwelt upon the main aim of the Y. H. I. as being the assistance of those of its members in trouble. It was a society wherein each one would receive the same consideration and all were expected to labor toward one end. Morality was an essential. Before a new member could be admitted his moral character must be vouched for. Mr. Wilcox then dwelt upon the financial standing of the Institute, showing receipts to the amount of $1,090 and expenditures such as to leave a balance on hand of $347 during the time from 1894 to 1897. This was certainly a good showing. The investment branch of the society, recently instituted, had already taken in $747.

In a few appropriate words, the retiring president introduced Dr. G. H. Huddy, the incoming head of the Institute, who addressed the audience briefly, asking the members of the Y. H. I. for their help in the duties that lay before him.

The chairman of the evening then introduced Henry Smith who gave an address on the "Benefits of Association." Mr. Smith handled his subject in a masterly manner, putting forth what really constitutes the foundation of the society. Help for the ones in trouble, meeting and exchanging ideas, coming together for a quiet evening with clean literature to peruse and innocent games to while away the hours free from the daily toil and other kindred acts, constitute the benefits.

In closing his remarks Mr. Smith referred to the return of the beloved Princess Kaiulani among her people, expressing the hope and giving the assurance that she would turn her talents gained by years of education in foreign lands, towards the help of those who looked up to her. In her station of life, incalculable was the good she could accomplish.

An excellent solo by Jas. W. L. McGuire, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. J. L. Holt, was followed by a mandolin and guitar duet by Messrs. Hennessey and Kaai. An encore enthusiastic was responded to by Hennessey taking the mandolin and Kaai the guitar.

"Whispering Hope," a duet by Misses Rose Parker and E. Kahale was very simply and sweetly given, the soprano of the latter and alto of the former blending perfectly. The quality found in Hawaiian voices was all there.

Mrs. J. L. Holt's piano selection from "Ben-Hur" was followed by a solo and encore on the part of Miss Kanoho, a young Hawaiian girl who has been under the training of Professor Berger and who gives promise of being an excellent singer. She was best in her Hawaiian selection later on.

J. M. Poeppoe's "Legend of the Hawaiian Jonah" given in Hawaiian, was the cause of laughter from the beginning to the end. His clever way of putting things, his play on words and his wit, all combined to give those who understood the Hawaiian language, a very noticeable tickling sensation in the sides.

Another mandolin and guitar duet by Hennessey and Kaai was heartily encored. The musicians responded with "Rastus on Parade." A song by the Glee Club and an encore closed the evening's program. Then came refreshments and the floor was cleared for dancing, which lasted about an hour.

The officers installed last night were: President, Dr. G. H. Huddy; vice-president, G. L. Desha; treasurer, Charles Wilcox; secretary, Isaac Sherwood; financial secretary, James L. Holt; marshal, James Keola.

A Short Session.

Senator Cecil Brown said yesterday that he believed the next session of the Legislature would be a very brief one. His idea was that there would be little to do beyond the enactment of appropriation bills.

It has been suggested that if annexation is accomplished before February that the Legislature would not sit. A member of the Government asked yesterday in regard to this, said all would depend on action at Washington.

Lycurgus and Sans Souci.

In regard to the rumor that he is soon to relinquish Sans Souci and go to Japan to engage in business, George Lycurgus says: I will give up the place at the beach when my lease expires. This will be in May, next. As to my future, I have said nothing, because I have decided nothing. At present, I have no idea what I will do. I may remain here and I may leave. My interests here are quite large and I like Honolulu.

Royalty Chateaus.

Prince David, as agent of Dowager Queen Kaiulani has asked the Government for leave to examine the royalty chateaus soon to be sold at auction. The purpose is to learn if any of the goods were the personal property of Kalakaua. It is not anticipated that there will be any friction, as the Government long since made a careful inventory of what is to be disposed of by auction.

The goods now offered are left from the lot out of which the late Kate Field and others bought a couple of years ago. The sale then ceased because the prices were too small. Originally all the goods were examined by agents of the Government and representatives of the Kalakaua estate. All questions of private ownership were then settled.

time in the Regulars and he knew the tactics from end to end. There was a commission in sight for him in B till the boys concluded he was getting too disreputable. Thompson could be pleasant and at one time had many friends. Even after considerable misbehavior he was favored by some of his old comrades.

Thompson is a moulder by trade and an excellent workman, but he cared for nothing like steady toil. About the only thing he did during the past four years was to drive back for a short time. He has served a term for vagrancy. While Thompson has been accused of many depredations the police have caught up with him for the first time. He was captured a few nights ago in the act of housebreaking.

GONE DAFT.

Sam Stone Sees Spooks in Police Station Cells.

Sam Stone, a half white, is in jail and will likely be sent to the insane asylum. It was thought at first that Stone had been setting himself up as a kahuna as some of his practices tended in that direction. However, later developments seem to show that he is demented. Stone was allowed the freedom of the police station yard on Wednesday and then part of Thursday morning.

It was noticed yesterday that Stone acted strangely and he was locked in a cell. One of the officers went to the window and found Stone shaking like an aspen leaf. Asked what the matter was, he replied that the place was full of devils. Suddenly he pointed at the officer and said: "You are one," and as another officer passed by, shouted: "There's another." He then crouched down so that he could not see the men and there continued to shake. The officers left. There seems to be no doubt that Stone is crazy.

At one time he had a quite promising future before him. He was bright and served on both the Custom House and police forces.

ARE PRACTICING.

Teams Getting Into Shape for Further Football Games.

The football teams were all out again for practice yesterday afternoon and they mean business. The Regiment boys are determined that they shall not be beaten in such a manner as they were by the Punahou, if they are beaten at all. If they had a little more confidence in themselves and resorted to a little swifter play, they could do a lot better, for they have the strength and the weight.

The Town team is handicapped by the loss of Angus and Chillingworth, but they are putting new players into the field and these promise to do good work. Schermhorn is the latest addition to the list.

The Punahou are confident of their ability to beat the Town team but the latter say that "there are others" in the field. The backers of the students in town are giving odds on their favorites. The game between these two teams will undoubtedly be the most interesting one of the season and will be looked forward to with pleasure by the enthusiasts.

Research Club.

The program for the meeting of the Young Men's Research club at Rev. Dr. Birnie's tonight will include the following:

Experiences in the Zulu war of 1879, W. J. Cranwell. Athletics of the past season, John Waterhouse. Commercial Development of the Pacific, John T. Debolt.

The Eastern Question, Judge de la Vergne. Review of Municipal Governments, Mr. Percy Pond.

The music will be arranged by Mr. Fletcher.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by all druggists and dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaiian Islands.

FIXING FOR VIEW

Arranging Kilohana Art League Exhibits.

Hanging Committee at Work. Water Colors and Oil Paintings—Carving—A Loan.

About the usual number of contributions to the fall exhibition of the Kilohana Art League have been received and the Hanging Committee has about completed its work. Among the works of art are:

A fine contribution of water colors by Mrs. Kelly. The most important piece is undoubtedly the large painting of a group of native flower girls seated on a matting out on the sidewalk. They are patiently waiting for customers and wear about their necks, leis of bright hues as an advertisement of their business.

Philip Dodge has a number of water colors of subjects Hawaiian. Miss Bessie French's water lily study showing the pond at Punahou, is an attractive bit.

Miss Bessie Afong has a pastel of guavas and A. A. Macurda a landscape in water colors. Mrs. Weedon exhibits a number of typical water color studies of island plants. They are distinctively botanical. C. W. Dickey has a historical bit done in Lahaina.

Mrs. Dacota exhibits a pleasing canvas in oils, her subject being a number of night blooming cereus flowers. There are very good qualities in the coloring.

D. Howard Hitchcock has quite a large exhibit in oils. The best work seems to be in the marines and of these a study in the grays and blues called "Symphony" seems to be the best products of his brush. Fishermen on the beach, hauling in a seine, is another good piece. A number of studies in Puna, a large study of a coffee plantation and other work, completes the list of Mr. Hitchcock's productions.

Miss Nolte will have a group of pieces in China painting. Two new contributors in this line, Mrs. Focke and Miss Woorehes, will also exhibit. Miss Woorehes will have some pieces in wood carving as well.

Mrs. Wm. Graham will exhibit a number of pieces in wood and leather burning as well as wood carving.

On the walls of the stage may be seen a number of sketches done by C. Wutke on his way from Munich, Germany to this country. They are rich, glowing subjects and create a most pleasing and lasting effect. Among the scenes shown are Yosemite Valley and the Cliff House, California. The pieces are not a part of the regular exhibition but were loaned to the Art League until November 24th, the day before the artist leaves for his home.

Mr. Wutke will go to the Volcano on the Kinau this morning and while there will make a number of sketches. At a meeting of the Art League held yesterday afternoon four new members were elected. Other business was postponed until the next regular meeting.

Invitations to the "First View" of the Art League, to be held Monday night, November 15th, will be issued to the members today. Each one will be allowed to bring one friend.

MILE A DAY.

Hard Work of a City Man's Friend on the Way to Klondike.

Geo. L. Ritman who is now in Fruitville, Alameda Co., California, wrote to a friend in Honolulu by the latest steamer from the Coast relating the trials and tribulations of his brother while on his way to the Klondike. Mr. Ritman writes as follows:

"I am here yet and have not started for Alaska. However, I have a brother who started up there. I have just heard from him. He got over the worst part of the journey and then a carbuncle came on the back of his neck. He had to sell his outfit and go back to get into a hospital where he had to remain two weeks. The carbuncle was brought on by the hard work of carrying his packs. He had twelve in all and each weighed 100 pounds. It took him 30 days to travel 30 miles so he averaged one mile a day, carrying 1,200 pounds a day. To do that, he had to carry one pack a mile and then go back after another. He must have walked 24 miles a day and went 720 miles to make 30. Now I think it will be some time before I want gold bad enough to do that."

Bicycle Patrol.

Marshal Brown has organized a police bicycle corps. He selects two men from each watch, making a detail of six in all. Henry Espinda and acting Lieutenant Gardner are already on duty. Nigel Jackson is to have a responsible position.

Two members of the wheel squad will be under orders at the station constantly. This will do away with the pair of mounted patrolmen on day duty.

Wanted Gold Fish.

An Italian boy went down to the fishmarket late yesterday afternoon and became attracted by the color of some gold fishes in a tin at the stalls of one of the Chinamen. So intent was he upon the occupation of getting one of these out of the tin that he did not spy the man who came up behind him. He gently took hold of his collar and removed him to the police station. There he was told not to do it again and was allowed to go on his way.

Dexter and Crozier.

Ruby Dexter writes from Auckland that he will try this season for the mile championship. He says he is in better shape and riding in better form and is stronger than ever and he believes he will make the present records look sick. The wheel business is good with Dexter and Crozier. The latter is now a "Cash" or professional rider and Ruby believes that he will do well.

Hag y in New Zealand.

Messrs. Coward and Kirkpatrick have just effected a sale of Hagye cure rights in New Zealand for $25,000. They will now go on from Auckland to Australia and after finishing in the land of the Kangaroo will depart for South Africa. Lem Ables is to remain in New Zealand for the present, he being a stockholder in the new company.

Senator Pettigrew.

Senator Pettigrew and ex-Senator Dubois were about the city all of yesterday busy in sightseeing. They inspected various public buildings and had a long drive. Mr. J. O. Carter was one of the callers at Snow cottage. In the evening the visitors were the guests at a dinner at the home of Paul Neumann.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Call and inspect the safes at the Hawaiian Hardware Company.

President Dole has issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation.

The Mariposa had aboard 300,000 sovereigns from the Colonies.

A Sterling chainless wheel is expected down by the next Australia.

Jos. Marsden was last heard of in Baltimore, where he was visiting Orme Wall.

Miss N. M. Lowrey was welcomed from the States by her large circle of friends.

Prof. W. T. Brigham, of Bishop Museum, is back from a business trip to San Francisco.

The Elsie Adair Company is expected back here in February or March. They are now in Singapore.

Samuel Parker is back to say that his Chronicle annexation interview was genuine and just right.

Armstrong Smith, the popular teacher brought from the States a package of new educational ideas.

H. F. Wichman will now proceed to unpack a lot of holiday gems he purchased on his trip to the States.

Professor Koebel sent some blight eating insects and some seeds by the Australia. He is now in Alameda.

Judge Widemann inquired about rumored steamer changes at San Francisco, but could learn nothing definite.

The Hawaiian Recognition Day holiday will be on Saturday, the 27th inst. This was decided by the Cabinet yesterday.

A Honolulu business man will ask the legislature for a franchise to distribute heating and illuminating gas in the town.

Jas. T. Stacker writes that he has entered upon his duties as editor of the Hawaii Herald and likes Hilo better than ever.

Walter G. Smith writes from San Francisco that he wishes he could be there to assist in the celebration of "Admission Day."

It is rumored that J. K. Kanila is about ready to go to Washington by the Australia next week, as now a fund of $800 is on hand.

Major Potter of the Foreign Office found San Francisco had changed in seventeen years, but greatly enjoyed his trip to the city.

H. Hackfeld, agents P. M. S. S. Co. and O. & S. S. Co., announce additional sailing dates for their steamers to and from this port.

Six Japanese ex-cavalrymen were among yesterday's applicants for enlistment in the Mounted Patrol. They said they were "good men."

Princess Kaiulani has been a very much occupied young woman since her arrival. There has been a steady stream of callers during day and evening.

It was rumored yesterday that certain natives are still making strenuous efforts to have Mr. John M. Kaneakua go as one of the "Commissioners" to Washington.

Nearly all the works of art to be exhibited at the fall exhibition of the Kilohana Art League have been put in place. Some very good work has been done by the members.

The volunteer firmen now out of service propose forming a veterans' association. A large number of them were brought together at the funeral of the late Maj. Chas. T. Gulick.

The Kinau will be back from Hilo on Thursday instead of Friday next in order to bring back Senator Pettigrew and ex-Senator Dubois who are to leave for the Volcano today.

OUR REPUTATION

For fine watch work is widespread; but we wish to impress the few who may not yet be in line, with the necessity of sending their watches when out of order to us directly; and not first allow every tinkler to ruin the watch, after which, send it to us for proper repairs.

The Cost is always more to you, after such treatment; ever so much better to send it right down to us, for we allow nothing but perfect work to leave our workshop.

You will be surprised, too, how much cheaper it will be, and how much more satisfactory to you.

Watches are securely packed in wooden boxes, and returned in the safest possible manner.

TIMELY TOPICS

NOVEMBER 12, 1897.

BURGLARS Are having quite a good time in Honolulu just now. So accustomed are we to take up a daily paper and find an account of another "Darling Robbery" that it is quite a disappointment after carefully going through the news of the day to find no mention of the usual crime.

Just who is responsible for this state of things is an open question. It is all very well to throw reason to the winds and accuse our police force of incapacity, etc., but the true cause is to be found nearer home. There are many persons who would not think of a criminal act, were temptation not placed in their way by the incautious acts of many of our citizens. Valuables are allowed to lie about in all places and at all times, and no care whatever is taken to secure them from curious eyes.

The true remedy is in a nutshell—or rather in a safe. The old excuse of "too expensive" does not hold now-a-days. We carry a selection of safes made by the first manufacturers in the United States in no less than 6 sizes, from the $15 "Baby" to preserve the family jewels, books, etc., to the largest office safe. All sizes are equally well made, strong and beautiful.

No one can afford to be without one—a safeguard alike from fire and the enterprising burglar.

WHEN THEY SPILL

How it Feels to Fall From a Flying Wheel.

30 MILE AN HOUR DIVES

Prominent Riders Relate Experiences—Jones and Martin—Curlous Thrills—Trilby—Jackson.

What are the thrills or sensations experienced in a real hard fall from a racing wheel moving at top speed?

This question in one form or another has been put to Geo. Sharrick, Geo. Martin, Allan Jones, John (Manoa) Sylva and Nigel Jackson. All of these time annihilators have made regular grandstand tumbles before audiences at Cyclomere during the season.

Sprinting speed is in the neighborhood of thirty miles an hour. Frequently they are going faster than that when the spill occurs. Now if a man was dashed from a train moving at the rate of a mile in two minutes, what would be the result? Not once in 100 such accidents would there be an escape with less than broken bones. About nine times out of ten the wheelman who leaves his mount in a rush starts again the next day. Cyclomere path is easier than the hard cement tracks of the United States, but the escapes do seem a little short of miraculous.

Sharrick, who assays high in brevity and silence—As I can tell it, you only think of two things. First you wonder if you are ever going to land. Then you wonder if you are hurt much. Looking back to the day I hit the road roller, I thought I was sailing on nothing long enough for a carrier pigeon to fly from San Francisco to Tacoma. When I was able to get on my feet I started to walk right into the lake, but stopped at the edge. I often wonder why the riders are not more seriously injured by their falls.

George Martin, who talks just a little bit more than Fred. Damon, who seldom says anything—When I look myself over after I get in the dressing room I try my best to figure how in the world I could hit the earth so hard in so many different places at the same time. The night Manoa and I locked pedals besides the jar to my elbow and wrist, I noticed that both shins, shoulders, insteps, hips, calves and heels were "barked" and that there was a lump on my head. When you are "digging in" you have your mind on your work so much that you can't shift to thinking of the fall till it is all over. The quick stop of a spill makes a buzzing in your ears and you hope to goodness you're not going to break any bones and spoil yourself for riding. I recollect wondering when I rose up the other night if Manoa was hurt. He was gritting his teeth when I looked at him just before we came together and I was riding easy and had him.

Allan Jones, the handsome gladiator who talks best when with the ladies, but who is always genial—In a fighting finish like Sharrick and I had the other night, you don't hear a single sound but the rush of the air even if 10,000 people are cheering their very best. In the fall you think no man ever traveled so far through space unless shot out of a cannon. It seems an awful long time "Twist heaven and earth." You say to yourself you are not hurt, but you are fearfully afraid this is the time that means you must quit the business. A collision with tandems, trips, quads and sex's is something like a railroad accident. I should think you forget a fall a little while after it is over. If you remembered you would be timid and could use no generalship in securing position. It is quite an experience to hit a man on foot when you are "pushing her along." You can scarcely help laughing to see him even when you feel yourself going. A man hit once is always afraid of a machine afterwards.

John (Manoa) Sylva, who is at his best when he talks race—the night I went into the lake I struck the bottom head on and had to shake myself to get loose from the mud. I thought then, as I generally think, that it was a shame I had to take the dive when I was in a fair way to finish with the best of them. I hate to lose by a fall. I'll be more careful since getting mixed up with Martin. That was a hard fall. I was knocked out for half an hour. First I looked for my wheel, and then for George. I didn't think we were so close together. It feels like a long fall when you do go off a wheel at racing speed.

Nigel Jackson, who refuses to talk unless he has nothing else to do—I always wonder principally how in the world it happened. It hasn't been my fault any time yet. The first fifteen or twenty falls I used to think about the machine, then I began to get a quick idea that I might be hurt myself. The falls are not exactly weakening, but they put you back in training. They have discouraged me very much. If it hadn't been for the accidents I'll be a professional winning cold coin. Instead of trying for Clement's breast plates. But I'll show them all yet.

Trilby Fowler, who even with a perfect pie mouth can talk just a little—I'd fall and break my neck some night only I'd have to disappoint the audience by falling to give an encore and then Desky or Conbling would take my return ticket away from me.

Blackley Missing.

A lot of Company D boys and others were looking all of yesterday and last night for Wm. Blackley. They came to the conclusion that he had left sans ceremony for sailing vessel. Properly named Blackley. He was detalled as clerk at military headquarters, then became scorer for ball games and finally secured a good position down town. This latter he lost through inattention. Blackley was a capable office man and had many friends till he drew away from them.

GREAT STEAM LINER.

May be Two Fast New Local Liners Put On.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company, should the Hawaiian Islands be annexed to the United States, says the San Francisco Report, will probably place the China and the Barracuda—both of which vessels have recently been placed under the Hawaiian flag—on the run between San Francisco and Honolulu. The China is the fastest steamer that now trades between San Francisco and the Islands, and on account of her speed she would be in line to secure mail subsidies. The two steamers would be able to do the work that now employs a large fleet of sailing vessels, and they might secure control of the sugar-carrying trade.

The Pacific Mail also intends to build two 10,000-ton twin-screw steamships for the China-Japan run, with Honolulu as a port of call.

Another plan suggested for local service is to send the Australia to the Central American line and make the China the local boat.

IN YE OLDEN TIME

A Voyage to Lahaina Made in the Year 1831.

Journal of Rev. Reuben Tinker—A Paper on the Character of the Hawaiian People—Music.

The Cousins held their last monthly meeting at the pleasant and spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen on Saturday evening last. An unusually large number were present, and the exercises were of more than ordinary interest.

After a considerable number of meetings with varied programs, it was pleasant to return once more to the order of exercises prepared by the regular Maile Wreath Committee.

On the line of reminiscence, Prof. W. D. Alexander read some extracts from the journal of the Rev. Reuben Tinker, in which was described the incidents of a journey from Honolulu to Lahaina, on a sailing vessel in company with one of the Hawaiian chiefs. From the latter place the trip was continued, by sea and land around to Waikuku. This was in the year 1831.

Rev. O. H. Gulick read a paper on "The Virtues of the Races among whom We Dwell." In this it had been his purpose to speak of the better traits of character and disposition of the various peoples who now find a home in these Islands, but owing to the limitation of time, he was able in this chapter to present only those traits as seen in the Hawaiian race. The paper was one of interest because it brought out very clearly some of the elements of Hawaiian character which are now often overlooked; and because it was written sympathetically by one who fully understands the native race and can appreciate their better qualities.

A short essay on Henry George from the pen of a writer who withheld his own name, was read by Mr. Bowen.

The music for the evening was furnished by Miss Haman and Mr. Raymond Coan.

It was voted that the next meeting should be held with Dr. and Mrs. Andrews at the house of Mr. G. P. Castle.

MOCKING BIRDS.

Mr. Pfuger Interested in Birds Sent Down Here.

Will anyone who sees or hears of the mocking birds turned loose at the Queen's Hospital be kind enough to notify this office? This is the suggestion of Ed. Dekum, correspondent of C. P. Pfuger, the Portland gentleman who furnished the birds.

Mr. Pfuger writes that the one bird killed by minahs was probably unable to fly. He knows both birds and says a mocking bird in proper trim will whip a minah. Mr. Pfuger says he may be coming back to Hawaii again next year and that if he makes the trip he will bring along a lot of mocking birds. Ed. Dekum's father and Mr. Pfuger were the leaders in the introduction of mocking birds and other sweet and harmless singers of the feathered tribe into Oregon. The Portland man has also sent some seeds to Hawaii.

Consul Presented.

Mr. W. J. Kenny, the new British Acting Consul-General and Commissioner, was presented to Minister Cooper by Thos. Rain Walker yesterday afternoon. The guard was paraded. A very pleasant quarter of an hour was spent in the Foreign Office by the Minister, the new Consul-General and retiring acting representative.

Minister Cooper and Mr. Kenny had met before. They were passengers on a steamer from San Francisco to Honolulu a year ago. Consul-General Kenny will secure a residence here so soon as possible.

No Lantana.

The land at Nahiiku, Maui, that is to be thrown open to settlement has many attractions. Some of it, being mauka forest, has not been explored in years. It is known to be fertile and well watered. Mr. Howell, the engineer who did the surveying, reports to Minister King that back in the hills there is no lantana. The dense undergrowth has kept out.

The New Bank.

P. C. Jones wrote by the Australia that on account of the delay in the arrival of the ship he had up to the time of the sailing of the down boat but one day for business. He had made some progress in the matter of establishing connections for the bank which he will open here the first of next year. For the new Honolulu financial institution there will be a complete re-arrangement of the offices of the Hawaiian Safe Deposit and Investment company.

PERCY SMITH.

Polynesian Student and New Zealand Official Here.

Among the arrivals on the O. S. S. Mariposa last night was Mr. S. Percy Smith, Surveyor General of New Zealand. He is here on a short trip and will remain until the Mariposa gets back when he will return to his home. In an interview aboard the steamer last night Mr. Smith said:

"I am here for a pleasure trip and will see as much of your islands as it is possible. They are very interesting to me because for the past thirty years I have studied the history, the people, and, to a slight extent, the language of the various islands of the South Pacific. Then I have here friends I value very highly such as Attorney General Smith, Professor Alexander, Dr. Emerson, Mr. Geo. Wilcox and others. The first I met when he was traveling through my country and spent no little time with him. The last two I know through our correspondence on subjects of common interest to us."

"I know quite a little about your place and shall be most glad to know more. I have just come from Samoa where I spent a month."

Hotel Improvements.

When the Macfarlanes said that they would put the Hawaiian hotel into good shape again they did not speak idly. A visit to the hotel now will show many improvements all over the whole building. New carpets in the hallways, new chairs about on the verandas, prettily tinted hallways and rooms, new electric light effects, new furniture and a multitude of small details that go to make up a first class hotel, can now be found. The service too is a great improvement and on all sides is heard praise for the way improvements have been carried on under the direction of Mr. James.

IS AN ISLAND BOY

Henry Beckley Makes a Great Football Play.

Wins the Day for Stanford—Praise for Him—Not to be Fooled by a Sharp Trick.

(Examiner, Oct. 31).

We must annex Hawaii.

There are many political and commercial reasons why the island republic should be brought in under the stars and stripes. The halls of Congress have resounded with the "burning eloquence" of statesmen urging the cause of annexation, and time and again has that foremost American, Senator Morgan, raised his voice in support of the movement. But yesterday developed another reason why the islands should be ours. A Hawaiian football player by the name of Henry Beckley, whose brunet complexion harmonizes with the crimson of Stanford, made the freshmen eleven of Berkeley look like 20 cents in Confederate money.

It was in the second half of the annual game between the freshmen classes of the two universities, when Beckley created a sensation. Berkeley was experimenting with a trick play. Her half-back, Smith, had started with the ball and then stopped and tried for a long pass to the end. Beckley, who saw through the trick as soon as it was attempted came up with a rush, caught the ball on the fly, and dodging the university backs, loped across the field for a touch-down. Anyone who can play football like this Hawaiian ought to be kept in the United States, even if this country has to take Hawaii to get him.

It was a game of ball for freshmen to play, being hard and fierce from the start. A dozen or more of the youngsters were bruised and battered up, until some of them looked as if they had been in a prizefight. At the start Captain Manley of Stanford was knocked out with a twisted knee, and another player had to be substituted. Every scrimmage left some one stretched out on the ground, though none were seriously hurt. Stanford 10, Berkeley 8.

Sewerage Plans.

F. S. Dodge, of the survey office, is expecting by every mail now the plans for the city sewerage system which Mr. Rudolph Hering of New York has prepared. In his last advice Mr. Hering said that both drawings and specifications were complete and that upon photographing the former he would make shipment. Besides the general plan, for pump, etc., there will be a supplemental plan for the business portion of the city.

Deserts the Bachelors.

Miss Blanche Williamson of Oakland arrived yesterday morning on the Mohean and was married last evening by Rev. Garvin to Mr. John H. Drew, who is connected with the firm of Castle & Cooke.

A number of Mr. Drew's associates in the store rendered him a farewell bachelor dinner at the Hawaiian Hotel last week. Mr. Drew is a nephew of Captain Drew of the bark Andrew Welch.

In Snow Blockade.

H. E. Wally and wife while on their trip to the States were for ten hours snow bound on a Colorado railroad. They left Denver early in the morning and their train was held at a place called Palmer Lake, but a few miles out from the Centennial State capital. Trains on a parallel road were also held and one of the sights witnessed was use of a snow plow with four monster locomotives behind it.

Japan's Demands.

The Mainichi Shimbun states that the Japanese Government has demanded a sum of two hundred thousand dollars (gold) from Hawaii, by way of indemnity in connection with the immigration affair. The Mainichi says that this sum includes the losses suffered by the immigrants to whom admission was denied, as well as by the companies that sent them, and the expense of sending a man-of-war to Honolulu.

FRAWLEY'S VISIT

Second Season Here of This Company.

Twenty-five Different Plays in Two Years—Manager Marx Here. The Repertoire Offered.

Once each year, usually during the summer months, the Columbia Theatre in San Francisco is occupied for a season of from ten to fifteen weeks by the Frawley Company, in much the same way as the Daly Company treats the play-goers of Greater New York. This month will mark the second annual visit of Mr. Frawley's players to the Islands, and probably the welcome that will be accorded them again, will induce their management to henceforth include Hawaii in their regular annual tour and make their visits to Honolulu a fixed event. In this way the Frawley Company, with its regular season, each year, will be to Honolulu what the Daly and Frohman companies are to New York and what they themselves are to San Francisco through the medium of the Columbia Theatre.

The play-goers of Honolulu will be enabled through these annual visits to become familiar with nearly all of the latest successes of the theatrical year. The repertoire for this season contains nothing that was offered on their last visit, which means that they will have presented twenty-five different plays when this season shall have ended.

Melville Marx who arrived yesterday on the steamer Australia has concluded to continue the sale of season tickets until Friday night and will have them ready for delivery on Saturday. On the following Monday morning the tickets for single performance will be placed on sale.

The opening play will be "Christopher Junior" to be followed by "Arabian Nights," "Shenandoah," "Railroad of Love," "Lue" Three Hats, "The Fatal Card," "Don't Tell Her Husband," "Social Highwayman," "A Matrimonial Maze," "Held by the Enemy," and "Men and Women."

PERSONAL AND PECULIAR.

A London wag says that the Americans can't twist the British lion's tail now. With the Tories in power, he asserts, the tail is always so well tucked away between the lion's legs that it passes the wit of man to get at it.

A German lady named Seller has discovered why a woman has a soprano voice and a man a bass one. She has found, under the microscope, two small wedge-shaped cartilages in a female larynx which were absent in the male larynx.

The appointment of Mr. Lawrence Washington of Alexandria, Va., as assistant in the National Library, in charge of the George Washington department, is especially appropriate. Mr. Washington is great-grandnephew of the illustrious chief, the records of whose life and times he has been appointed to care for.

The court of Pope Leo XIII. comprises 1000 persons. There are twenty valets, 120 chamberlains, 300 extra honorary chamberlains, 130 supernumerary chamberlains, 30 officers of the noble guard, and 60 guardsmen, 14 officers of the Swiss Guard and Palace Guard, 7 honorary chaplains, 20 private secretaries, 10 stewards and masters of the horse, and 80 doorkeepers.

Johannes Penzler has begun the formidable task of bringing into book form all the dispatches, letters and interviews of Prince Bismarck since his dismissal, together with the more important newspaper articles supposed to be inspired by him. The first volume of his work—384 pages—has already appeared, under the title of "Furst Bismarck nach seiner Entlassung."

WILL DEMORALIZE INDIANS.

An exchange says that the rush to the Yukon is likely to occasion a dreadful demoralization among the Indians of Alaska. Hitherto the procurement of liquor by the Indians has been attended with difficulty. But now the government force is inadequate to control the traffic, and there is practically no restriction at Dyea and Skagway in the sale of the vilest alcoholic drinks ever offered to man. The results cannot be other than dire in the extreme. When a slush has ready access to alcohol he becomes a maniac. He must be relied upon for portage across the pass, but one might as well apply at a lunatic asylum for carriers as at an Indian camp where liquor is plentiful.

NOT ENOUGH MEN.

For the first time in seven years, says the Wall Street Daily News, there is not sufficient available labor in the Birmingham district to meet the demands of the coal mines and iron furnaces. This condition prevails despite the fact that there is not a strike or labor trouble of any kind in the State of Alabama. It results from the unprecedented demand for Alabama coal and iron. In addition to the regular domestic trade big shipments are being made to points north of the Ohio river, where the strike prevails, and to Southern points for shipping. Increased demands for Alabama iron in Europe are pressing the furnaces to fill orders. Coal mines and furnace operators are advertising for labor to meet the requirements of the situation, and labor agents are being placed in the field.

IN RAMPART CITY

Frank Grace Writes From Minook Creek Diggings.

STAKES OUT TWO CLAIMS

Letter of Sept. 18—Last Boat—Food Scarce at Dawson—Life Lost. Cabins—Gus Maurer.

Mrs. John Grace has received a letter from her son Frank, now at Rampart City, Alaska. He wrote to his parents under date of September 18, and said: "I am very sorry that I could not write to you before this but the fact is no steamers have gone out since we arrived here. There will not be another down besides this one by which I write till next June."

"While this place is called Rampart city the stream upon which it is located is the famous Minook creek. "None of the steamers can reach Dawson city as the river is too low. The best the boats did was to make Fort Yukon, which is about 500 miles from Dawson. The people at Dawson will suffer for food this winter. The captain of one of the steamers is trying to reach Dawson in a small sloop so as to notify the people to leave before it is too late to travel. It is certain that there will be no food for them. "We expect to see 2,000 people from the Klondike district down here inside of three weeks. The river will be frozen in a few days and then they can come on the ice. It snowed hard here last week, so you can see it is real winter already."

"This is a pretty country and the prospects for mining are excellent. The Minook has the reputation of being one of the very richest of all the gold creeks. I have staked two claims and hope they will pan out well. There are only 300 people in this "City" just now, but the place is lively. "We have built a log cabin here in town and leave tomorrow for one of our claims. It will take about a week to put up a cabin on the claim. Then we will be O K for the winter. The place where we intend to build our cabin is twelve miles from town, which makes a nice little walk with a pack on your back. As soon as the creek freezes over we can sled our outfit to the claims."

"A young man from Chicago or some eastern city died up in the hills last week from exposure. He and his partner went out to Hoosier creek to stake a claim for themselves. A heavy snow storm came on. They had no blankets and were without matches or wood for a fire. One of them died fighting the weather. The other boy was out of his head two days, but is well now. I have a claim within a mile of where the poor dead fellow is buried."

"The letters that you directed to me at Dawson I cannot get for some months. My address now will be: Rampart City, Minook Creek, Yukon River, Alaska. I will get the answer sometime in the spring, which seems a very long wait. You will not hear from me for a long time—till the first boat in the spring. I hope you are all in the best of health and doing well. Please do not worry about me, as I will be all right. Gus Maurer sends his aloha to papa and Pete Lucas. Give my regards to Charlie Murray and all my friends."

Newspaper articles report rich strikes on Minook creek. All will join the Advertiser in the wish that Frank Grace may find a claim all gold and several yards wide and deep.

TAX APPEAL CASE.

Ewa Plantation—Other Matters in the Circuit Court.

J. W. Lelloha has filed a motion to have his case against Pakaula tried in regular order.

The Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company has filed a motion to the Court to make an order closing the time for filing counter-affidavits by the defendant, Claus Spreckels in order that the defendant's motion to dismiss may be decided.

Ewa Plantation Company and Jonathan Shaw, tax assessor, have agreed to have the tax appeal case submitted to the Court on briefs and also that the case may be decided in vacation.

Both Ale and her husband, Anton James, and Lum See have waived jury trial and have agreed that the suit for ejectment may be tried in vacation. The attorneys of John K. Sumner have filed a demurrer to the petition of Maria S. Davis for the appointment of a guardian over the person of Sumner. The demurrer sets forth that the petition contains no averment that John K. Sumner is a person for whom Maria Davis has authority by law to appoint a guardian, and further that the Court has no authority to appoint a receiver in the suit of Sumner vs. Crandall or turn over the estate to a guardian or receiver. The demurrer asks that the petition be dismissed with costs. Judge Stanley decided yesterday that Neleolani must restore to L. Nakoa the land under dispute at Palama.

MR. CHURCHILL.

The Ex-Consul to Samoa in Hawaii for a Visit

Ex-American Consul Churchill of Apia, Samoa, arrived on the Mariposa last night in company with Mrs. Churchill. It is his present intention to go to Japan but he will not decide positively on this until he receives his mail by the Coptic. In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Churchill will visit the Volcano and other points on Hawaii. After leaving Japan, they will go direct to Washington.

Mr. Churchill has now on the way a book of Samoan history and Samoan stories which will undoubtedly prove very interesting.

Consul Churchill retired from office at Apia because he was dissatisfied with the position. It has been reported in the States that he would be assigned to another consulate.

A Consul Dead.

David Thomas, Hawaiian Consul-General at Valparaiso, died on September 13. No successor has yet been named. Mr. Thomas, who is an American merchant was appointed the representative of this country September 13, 1888. His name had been the longest on the Foreign Office consular list.

DR. LAMONT'S STRONG FINGERS.

"I was afraid you were going to slip through my fingers," said good old Dr. Lamont.

The writer was a boy of about seventeen, then. While a student at school, more than 300 miles from home, I was taken down with pneumonia. I had a tough time, and for two or three weeks my life was despaired of. But youth and good care won the fight, and one bright morning I was ready to go home with my dear father who had come for me. I was weak still, but well and happy clear up to the brim. Oh, what a ride! Oh, what sweet air! Oh, what a glorious world I had got back into! and what a reception from mother and sisters at the familiar house. Oh, life! Oh, health! Oh, dulce, dulce domum!

Such an illness, if one survives it, only makes the sense of existence and its blessings more keen and delightful. It is good rather than bad. Lucky boy, not to have slipped through the doctor's fingers.

But when a man with most of his days behind him has to write a line like this: "All my life I have suffered more or less from disease"—why that is another and sadder story. It is the odds between an occasional thunderstorm and a sky always covered with clouds.

We quote what he says, reminding the reader that in this matter Mr. William Hodgkinson voices the experience of millions. He says: "I always had a bad taste in the mouth, no proper relish for food, and after eating had pain and fullness at the chest."

These sensations are symptoms of acute indigestion. In the stomach there is marked loss of power. The food is neither rolled over as it should be, so that the whole of it in turn may be presented to the digestive fluid, nor is it duly moved on towards the outlet into the bowels. As a result, it ferments and gives off irritating acids and gases, hence the patient complains of pain, weight, distention, acidity, and flatulence in that region. Thence the poisons proceed to every other part of the body, and headache, vertigo, gout, rheumatism, depressed spirits, and a score more of evils follow; among them, possibly, nervous prostration, progressive anaemia, locomotor ataxia, and more or less complete paralysis.

"Frequently," continues Mr. Hodgkinson, "I was sick, and as time went on I became very weak and feeble. I consulted one doctor after another and took various medicines but obtained no real or lasting relief from any of them. This describes my general condition until the fortunate day when I read about Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. I was impressed by the statements others had made concerning it, and proceeded to try it. After taking one bottle I found relief, and was soon entirely free from my old complaint. Since that time (now eight years ago) I have enjoyed good health. Knowing personally of its virtues, I have recommended this remedy to hundreds, and have never heard of its having failed to give relief. But for Mother Seigel's Syrup I should have been in my grave years ago. (Signed) WILLIAM HODGKINSON, Hollington, near Uttroter, Staffordshire, August 11th, 1893."

Mr. Hodgkinson is well known and highly respected. He is a local preacher in the Methodist church, and by employment a quarry master. Had he gone into the grave, as he feared he should, he would have been missed and lamented by the community in which he has long been useful, and will live to be useful, we hope, for years to come.

Now let us repeat our leading thought. Short illness, even though sharp and dangerous, may result in good, rather than harm. But a disease that drags its victim through decades of lingering illness—what shall we say of it? The trouble and suffering it inflicts is beyond estimate, and its name is indigestion and dyspepsia. And the name of the medicine that cures it Mr. Hodgkinson has done you the favor to mention with clearness and emphasis.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also, furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles.

Electric Power being used, saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also, attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

Natives of Samoa Drift in a Canoe Sixty Days.

Blow Carried Them Out to Sea.
Terrible Suffering—Missionary Packet to the Rescue.

(New Zealand Herald).

While on their visit round the Ellice Group, the mission yacht, John Williams, picked up a shipwrecked party of Samoans on the island of Namunui, the northern-most island of the Ellice Group. It appears that 22 Samoans left the island of Tutuila in a large boat for two islands some 60 miles to the eastward. They were blown out of their course and drifted before the wind for 60 days until they eventually made the island of Namunui, which is about 900 miles in a direct line from their starting point. Nearly half of the party died in the boat, one was killed in landing, and some died on shore leaving only the eight survivors. They ate their tappa sulus and spread their sails to catch the rain, which fell heavily, and which they stored up in some trade boxes they had on board. The island they eventually reached is inhabited, and the people took all possible care of them, but they were in a very low condition when the steamer picked them up. They have since been returned to their homes.

Notice to Ship Captains.

U. S. Branch Hydrographic Office,
San Francisco, Cal.

By communicating with the Branch Hydrographic Office in San Francisco, captains of vessels who will co-operate with the Hydrographic Office by recording the meteorological observations suggested by the office, can have forwarded to them at any desired port, and free of expense, the monthly pilot charts of the North Pacific Ocean and the latest information regarding the dangers to navigation in the waters which they frequent.

Mariners are requested to report to the office dangers discovered, or any other information which can be utilized for correcting charts or sailing directions, or in the publication of the pilot charts of the North Pacific.

MORTGAGEE'S NOTICE OF INTENTION TO FORECLOSE AND OF SALE.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of powers of sale contained in those two certain mortgages made by Antonio Rosa to the Trustees under the will of William C. Lunaillo, deceased, the first of which said mortgages is dated December 13, 1882, and recorded in the Registry of Conveyances in Honolulu, Oahu, in Liber 79, pages 208 and 209; and the second dated May 17, 1884, and recorded in said Registry in Liber 88, pages 186, 187 and 188, the mortgagees intend to foreclose said mortgages for breach of condition in them respectively contained, to wit: the non-payment of principal and interest.

Notice is also hereby given that all and singular the lands, tenements and hereditaments described in said mortgages, and which are the same as described in each of said mortgage respectively, will be sold at public auction, at the auction rooms of James F. Morgan, on Queen street, in said Honolulu, on Saturday, the 27th day of November, A. D. 1897, at 12 o'clock noon.

The property described in said mortgages respectively are those three several parcels or tracts of land situate in Kalihi, District of Kona, Island of Oahu, and described as follows:

1. All that parcel of land known as Ouana, on the south side of Kalihi valley, being the land described as Apana 8 in Land Commission Award 6450, to Kaunuuohua no Moehonua, containing an area of 81 acres more or less.
 2. All that parcel of land known as Kekuapalau, on the north side of Kalihi valley, being the land described as Apana 9 in Land Commission Award 6450 to Kaunuuohua no Moehonua, containing an area of 105 acres more or less.
 3. All that parcel of land known as Pohakuuawaawa at or near the head of Kalihi valley, being the land described as Apana 10 in Land Commission Award 6450 to Kaunuuohua no Moehonua, containing an area of 326 acres more or less.
- All of which parcels or tracts of land being the same as described in deed from D. K. Fyfe, the Commissioner to sell the real estate of W. L. Moehonua, to said Antonio Rosa, dated December 13, 1882, and recorded in said Registry in Liber 79, pages 206, 207 and 208.
- The above described tracts of land are adjacent to the city of Honolulu, and being well suited to the cultivation of coffee as well as other products, their sale will afford an exceptional opportunity for the purchase of such land within easy access from Honolulu.
- Terms cash. Deeds at the expense of purchasers.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage made by Antonio Joe, of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, to S. N. Emerson of said Honolulu, dated May 20, 1897, recorded in the Hawaiian Registry of Conveyances in Liber 139, pages 87 and 88, and assigned to Chang Kim on October 15, 1897, the assignee of said mortgage intends to foreclose said mortgage for breach of condition in said mortgage contained, to wit: the non-payment of principal and interest.

Notice is also hereby given that all and singular the lands, tenements and hereditaments described in said mortgage will be sold at public auction at the auction rooms of James F. Morgan, on Queen street, in said Honolulu, on Saturday, the 4th day of December, 1897, at 12 o'clock noon.

The property covered by said mortgage is all of that parcel or tract of land situate in Kalihi, District of Kona, Island of Oahu, being a portion of the land described in Royal Patent 1204, L. C. A. 681, containing an area of one and 40-100 acres, more or less, and the same premises conveyed to said mortgage by deed of W. H. Cummings, dated June 22, 1891, recorded in said Registry in Liber 133, pages 91-5.

Terms: Cash. Deeds at expense of purchasers.

Assignee of Mortgagee,
Charles F. Peterson, attorney for Assignee of Mortgagee.
Dated Honolulu, November 4, 1897.
